

Petite Layer Cake

LIST OF MATERIALS

- Small, medium and large wood discs (8 of each size)
- Small ball of clay or Crayola Model Magic
- Tiny wood dowel or piece of a toothpick
- Tacky glue
- White paint and markers
- Small piece of orange/yellow paper

ASSEMBLE YOUR PETITE LAYER CAKE

Assemble Your Cake:

1. Make a stack of 8 large wood discs and glue them together to form the first layer.
2. Glue together a stack of 8 medium discs then glue it on top of the stack of large discs.
3. Repeat by gluing together a stack of small discs and glue the small stack of wood discs to the top of the medium stack.
4. Shape the small piece of clay or Model Magic to form the top layer of your cake and glue it to the top of the small stack of wood discs.
5. Stick the small wood dowel into the clay to form the candle.
6. Allow all the glue to dry.

Decorate your cake:

1. Using white paint, lightly paint several layers of the cake. Allow paint to dry.
2. Using markers, draw “sprinkles” on a few layers of your cake as desired.
3. If you want your candle “lit”, cut a small piece of yellow or orange paper and glue it to the top of the candle to make the flame.

Want to make a cake stand for your cake?
Glue an old piece of jewelry or beads to the bottom of something flat (such as a piece of plastic or cardboard) and paint everything the color of your choice.
